

The Pledging Tree Foundation

The Pledging Tree Foundation held its 3rd and 4th financial workshops for the community on October 28th and November 18th, 2008.

Downingtown, Pennsylvania, November 19, 2008 - The third and fourth financial workshops conducted by The Pledging Tree Foundation (TPTF) received a great response from the community. Financial expert Dave Hoyer, from Financial Planning Association of Philadelphia conducted these workshops. The third workshop covered all aspects of financial planning before and during life transition points (e.g. divorce, death of a spouse/partner, change in health, and loss of a job, military service and other times when life just comes at you. The fourth workshop was co-hosted by TPTF and The West Chester Public Library, West Chester. This workshop covered “Sound Financial Planning Tips for Teens - Ways to Build a Strong Financial Future”. At the end, attendees gave positive feedback and requested more workshops pertaining to other financial matters.

The Pledging Tree is looking to hold its future financial workshop in 2009. Please visit the site to learn about the dates and topics for the next workshop.
